CRSLaghi: our story

CRSLaghi – Centro Ricerche e Studi dei laghi – was founded in 2017 as a spin-off of Scuola Superiore per Mediatori Linguistici Carolina Albasio. The innovative spirit encourages businesses, institutions and professionals to pursue the unknown to reach one final goal: improving the quality of life for people in every field, from private to public, from social relations and to the working environment.

Through the academic spin-off, CRSLaghi intends to promote the start of entrepreneurship with a high innovation content to take advantage of scientific research results, also for the purpose of increase the potentiality of the university-based researches and to develop new educational opportunities.

Mission

“Combine together academic and business culture”:

- promoting and enhancing Research & Development projects
- supporting virtuous relations among universities, institutions, companies and experts
- sustaining the growth of creative businesses with R&D activity and innovative Masters

Technical and Scientific Sectors

Innovation is the common denominator in research activity and in Masters, organized in seven Departments:

Legal Sciences; Statistics and Economics Sciences; Information Technologies and Computer Sciences; Linguistics and Cultural Mediation Sciences; Human Sciences; Physics, Chemistry, Engineering, Biology and Food&Drink Sciences; Energy and Environmental Engineering Sciences.

Each area has its own academic Department coordinated by its Director.

The Departments Directors manage and supervise every single research, educational or service project in the area of expertise.

The Research Center

CRSLaghi, academic spin-off registered in the National Register of Research of the MIUR - Ministry of Education, University and Research - and certified by Unioncamere as a Center for Technology Transfer 4.0 (according to the MISE directorial decree of 12/22/17), offers its assistance through Research contracts for the development of research projects promoted by Public or Private Enterprises, Institutions and Professionals of the sector, aimed at creating innovative processes or prototypes in the thematic areas of its 7 Departments.

Researchers and research consultants are coordinated by the Department Directors and are guided with innovative methodologies by a scientific committee composed by University Professors and Researchers of major Italian Universities.

Tax credit for R&D activities

The current Italian legislation establishes a tax credit for R&D activities.

Unless further changes, the latest amendment of the law is effective till 31 December 2020.

All Companies that make investments in R&D activities - regardless of legal status and the economic sector where they operate as well as the accounting system used - can benefit of this tax credit.

The Law establishes some categories of R&D activities that can benefit of the tax credit including payroll of the employees working in the R&D projects and expenses referred to research contracts stipulated with Universities and Research Institutions.

Business School

CRSLaghi offers Innovative Masters and post-graduate Higher Learning Courses aimed at Experts, Managers and Professionals from various backgrounds. The Courses last from two (short-track) up to eight days (full-track), with a combination of frontal lessons and e-learning; exams can be undertaken live or remote.
